

COOKIE POLICY

The Jet Bank Sh.A. website uses cookies and similar technologies to ensure the correct and secure operation of the website, to enhance user experience, and, only after your explicit consent, to perform statistical analyses on website usage.

WHAT ARE COOKIES

Cookies are small text files stored on your device (computer, tablet, phone) when you visit our website. They allow us to recognize your device, remember your preferences, and ensure the website functions consistently and securely.

Jet Bank uses only:

- Technical and functional cookies, which are necessary for the basic functioning of the website and do not require prior consent; and
- Analytical cookies, which are used to collect aggregated and anonymous statistical information about how the website is used (e.g., number of visitors, most visited pages), only if you give your consent via the cookie management mechanism.

The website does not use cookies for marketing or profiling purposes without your explicit consent and does not activate any non-essential cookies before such consent is given.

You have the right to accept, reject, or manage your cookie preferences at any time via the cookie banner or your browser settings. Refusing non-essential cookies does not affect your access to the website or its core functionalities.

For more information about the types of cookies we use, their purposes, and retention periods, please refer to the relevant sections of this Cookie Policy or contact us at the email address provided for privacy matters.

WHAT COOKIES DO

Cookies help the website operate properly, remember your preferences, and improve the user experience. They may be used for:

- Technical operation of the website;
- Enhancing user experience;
- Collecting aggregated and anonymous statistical data, if permitted by the user.

Cookies do not contain viruses and, in principle, do not directly identify individuals. They may be session cookies (deleted when the browser closes) or persistent cookies (stored for a set period). Non-essential cookies are only used after your consent, which can be withdrawn at any time.

TYPES OF COOKIES

The Jet Bank website uses different categories of cookies, serving various purposes and used in accordance with your choices:

- Technical cookies (essential): These are necessary for the correct and secure operation of the website. They enable navigation, access to basic functionalities, and storage of technical settings. These cookies are automatically enabled and do not require your consent, as the website cannot function properly without them.

- Analytical cookies (optional): These are used to collect general, anonymized statistical information about how the website is used (e.g., number of visitors, most visited pages) to improve performance and user experience. Analytical cookies are only activated after your explicit consent and are not used for individual identification or marketing purposes.

MANAGING CONSENT

When you visit the Jet Bank website for the first time, a cookie management banner will appear, informing you about cookie usage and allowing you to make free and informed choices.

Through this mechanism, you can:

- Accept all cookies.
- Reject cookies that are not necessary for website operation; or
- Manage your preferences, selecting which categories of cookies you want to enable.

Non-essential cookies are not activated before your explicit consent. Your choices are respected on every visit and stored for a defined period in accordance with applicable law.

You may change or withdraw your consent at any time through the cookie management options on the website or via your browser settings. Withdrawal or change of consent does not affect the lawfulness of processing carried out before this action. Refusing non-essential cookies does not limit your access to the website and does not affect its core functionalities.
